I am the head of the Associate desk at LTN, which I started with Alex in early 2021. My focus is on the long-term for my clients and I look to give the best possible advice. Having placed lawyers into so many different sectors, I can give advice outside my current focus, which enables me to consult on a wide range of options. I am extremely fortunate to really love what I do, and I am constantly looking to learn and improve the service that I can offer my clients.

Since 2003 I have been recruiting lawyers into temporary and permanent positions within government, in-house, financial services, and private practice. From 2010 I have been concentrating solely on placing Associates into permanent and fulfilling roles in law firms. My experience and market knowledge has set me up perfectly to grow the Associate desk at LTN and I am loving the challenge that comes with that.

I graduated from university with a physics degree which has obviously been critical to my career ever since. When not supporting my clients, I enjoy escaping to the golf course, various other sports, and spending time in the countryside with my wife and family.
