I joined LTN & Partners at the start of 2022 as a Senior Recruiter in the Associate team, having been in the legal recruitment industry since 2018. Over the years I have developed an expertise in advising Associates moving to and within top-tier US law firms in London, as well as a number of leading UK firms. I have also moved Associates into the London market from overseas jurisdictions, in particular those coming from Ireland and across the European continent, NYC, and Australasia.

I work closely with clients to understand their hiring needs and have earned a reputation in the market as a trusted advisor to both law firms and Associates alike. Although private practice recruitment continues to be my main focus, I have also worked on a number of successful in-house legal hires.

Outside of work I volunteer as a befriender to the elderly through the London Irish Centre.
