

Caragh Thomas

Senior Researcher

+44 7894 535 066

caragh@ltnpartners.com

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/caragh-thomas-2b84251a4/>

As Senior Researcher I focus on providing detailed market research for consultancy and recruitment projects. Since starting at LTN I have assisted the recruitment teams with searches for Magic Circle, US, and international law firms by delivering extensive market mapping of various legal practices and thorough candidate research. I also support the consultancy team with market research and analysis for a variety of business development and client projects.

I am originally from Manchester but have lived in London since studying for my BA in History at Queen Mary University. I joined LTN after completing my master's degree in The History of Political Thought and Intellectual History at UCL. While studying I worked as researcher for an executive search firm in Wimbledon.

Outside of work, my interest in History means I can often be found (usually in the giftshop) of one of the great museums or galleries around London. I also enjoy travelling and look forward to visiting new places in 2022.