I have worked in professional services relationship marketing for over 30 years. Before I joined LTN & Partners, in 2021, I was Director of Marketing & Communications at a large US law firm, building and then managing the Marketing & Communications team for their new office in London. I have worked extensively in Europe, Asia and the US and I specialised in high-end event management, communications, and the set-up of new businesses – concentrating on brand development and internal communications.

Outside of work, I am an avid sports fan and follow rugby, tennis and F1.
